Professional Summary

As a qualified English teacher with a PGCE and experience across FE and HE, I have taught the GCSE and IGCSE curricula across a range of settings, including MAT and Catholic schools, as well as private tutoring on a 1-1 basis. I am also skilled in curriculum development, educational content/instructional/digital design, academic support, workshop delivery, and maintaining accurate student data and records, with experience supporting international, SEN, and ESL learners. Adept at curriculum development, student retention strategies, and administrative tasks within both classroom and higher education environments. Finally, my experience working across a variety of industries from client focused to student support has taught me how to balance customer satisfaction, timely delivery and how to tailor my communication skills.
